

THE FUTURE OF OUR CHILDREN

Invest to Empower
the Mind, Body and Spirit of our Youth

With the aim of creating an environment that enhances the mind, body and spirit of our Muslim youth, Tawheed Institute has embarked on building a spectacular campsite called Camp Taha — a place to set the stage for positive social and spiritual change. It is intended to be a rewarding experience for the campers while they learn to work and live together, make wise choices, and build self-confidence. Well documented research indicates that nurturing through such programs is essential for the success of today's youth and has positive lifetime effects. With prayer facilities to worship and reflect, sport arenas to challenge and improve physical skills, education programs to enrich the mind, and a diversity of participants to network and build lasting friendships, the outcome is good leaders and role models who will contribute towards a caring and sharing world.

Donate

Give your tax-deductible donations to help us achieve our goals. We have permission to collect khums for this project from Syed Seestani. Your support will help many generations to succeed.

“Spending money for the cause of God is as the seed from which seven ears may grow, each bearing one hundred grains. God gives in multiples to those whom He wants. God is Munificent and All-knowing.”
Holy Qur'an (2:261)

Loans

Please help us with your interest-free loans to help us minimize the need to borrow from banks in order to finish the last phase of our construction. These will be repaid in five years - repayments will begin 2 years from the date of the loan, and will be made in 36 equal installments from month 25 to month 60. Our promissory note can be viewed online showing details of how we intend to borrow and return the funds.

“One who generously lends to God will be paid back in many multiples of the loan. It is God who reduces and expands things and to Him you will all return.” (2:245)
